ance of Russian prisoners in Japan, this on the theory that Russia will eventually agree to cede Sakhalin, which is now potentially conquered territory. This is undoubtedly the line of ultimate compromise there is to be.

The Associated Press can state authoritatively that neither the duestion of making Yladivostok an "open port," or the Amur River an international waterway as some papers have stated, is included in the Japanese terms which, as developments have demonstrated were given correctly by The Associated Press the day they were submitted by Japan.

Fight for Warships.

Japan will make a stif right for the possession of the interned Russian warships. Mr. Dennison, the American legal advisor of the Japanese mission, spent most of the day in his office lookins up the precedents on the subject. Japan is exceedingly anxious to obtain these ships, and in her argument will quote several international precedents in support of her demand. One reason why the Japanese are so insistent upon this article is because of their intention not to apply the indemnity, in case one shall be obtained, to the increase of the may. The indemnity will be used first in paying off finatedial obligations incurred during the war, granting of pensions and development of the Japanese educational system.

To replace the losses to the facet, incurred in the war and to maintain the fleet up to a standard of strength and efficiency sufficient to defend her interests, Japan needs additional battleships and cruisers.

If she obtains all of the Russian ships now interned in neutral harbors and Japan acous adultions of the Russian ships now interned in neutral harbors and succeeds in raising a number of those sunk in battle, she will be saved the necessity for the present at least of a large naval budget for new construction. The London government is strongly in favor of insistence upon this article, and Japan seems to have set her heart upon the surrender of the ships by Russia.

looked for in the immediate future. Considerable satisfaction is drawn from the small number of deaths, because it shows two things—that the type of the disease is not as malignant as at first supposed, and that the authorities are fliding about every case in the city.

The generally, accepted death rate is about 11 per cent. It is about a week ago that the daily record took such a jump, one day 166 cases being reported. Since then the daily record has hovered around sixty. While gight days are usually allowed for a patient to recover or die, most of the deaths occur in the fifth and sixth days, so the fact that the deaths yesterday and to-day were small, indicates that all the cases are on the record now and subjected to treatment according to the modern idea. Dr. White said the other day that if he could be assured of having every case in the city under observation and proper treatment he could stamp out the disease in a short time, so evidently the desired condition is approaching, if it has not already been attailed.

Little Doubt That He Will Try for Gubernatorial Nomination in 1909.

DUKE MENTIONED

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., August 16,-The friends of Hon. Harry St. George Tucker are rejoiced that the board of governor of the Jamestown Exposition has selected him for its president, and it is not amiss to say the friends of the ter-contennial enterprise are also pleased. Mr. Tucker s regarded as being emmently fitted for the post made vacant by the death of General Fitzhugh Lee, and it is believed that but a short time will be necessary to demonstrate this fact. He is a man of the most captivating manners, and, in addition, is one of the best platform speakers in the country. He will make friends for the exposition wherever he may go. By the way, close friends of Dr. Tucket say there is little doubt that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomina-tion for the governorship of Virginia in 1909. Doing Detective Work.

A story that has been much and freely discussed, is that Juror Baughman went out of his way to gather evidence for the information of the grand jury, and that on one occasion he was seen after midnight in a carriage with Bayliss Epps, brother of Claiborne Epps.

A friend of Police Commissioner Chris. Maming, was the authority for the story, but when a 'imes-Dispatch man called upon Mr. Manning to ask if he had made such a statement, he replied: "I have nothing whatever to say regarding the matter."

The Times-Dispatch is in a position to state that Mr. Baughman explained this occurrence to the members of the grand our in the jury room. He had gone about midnight to the Western I'nion Telegraph office on lower Main Street, to send a message, when on his way home he message, when on his way home he message, when on he message, when on

Would Injure Judge Witt.
When the four rough drafts of the minority report were presented to the members of the egrand Jury a discussion took place as to the outcome of adopting certain portions of the paper. One Juror, in giving his reasons for his objection, stated that in his opinion, if the report were adopted, it would greatly injure Judge Witt. Mr. Baughman, in reply, said that he was there to do his sworn duty, and that he intended to report the information that came to his knowledge, no matter whom that information injured or helped.

All. Has Been Told. All Has Been Told.

In speaking of the suppressed minority report a member of the grand jury stated on yesterday that he wished the report could be made public without further delay, because, he said, when the paper was made public every one would be disappointed at its lack of sensational state-
